on the cover:

Our cover model is a student at one of our favorite places—Cerebral Palsy of Westchester (CPW) in nearby Rye Brook, New York. Sultan has a huge smile and an infectious laugh and is a joy to work with. At our latest visit (see our President's Letter on the facing page), Sultan was delighted by our Gel Pad Activity Center (#3951, page 39), as you can see in the picture. Says Tina Weisman, Clinical Director at CPW, "Our students love Enabling Devices products. The Gel Pad Activity Center has been a big hit with our students who engage in play at a sensorimotor level! We greatly appreciate the work you do and the dedication Enabling Devices has to individuals with special needs. Your love comes through in your products!"

Dear Enabling Devices Community:

The last three years have been difficult for all of us, but the COVID-19 pandemic has been especially hard on children with special needs who depend on the hands-on help of their physical and occupational therapists. It has also made it impossible for Enabling Devices to get the in-person feedback we depend upon in order to improve current designs and create new products.

Thankfully, things are headed back toward normalcy, and in mid-April we were able to resume our visits to local schools and centers.

Our first visit was to one of our favorite places—Cerebral Palsy of Westchester (CPW) in Rye Brook, New York. There we were reminded of the sheer joy we experience when we are in the presence of special needs students and their extraordinary teachers and therapists.

We started the morning with Shaun. He was not shy and we quickly learned which toys held his interest and which did not. We were looking for honest feedback and boy did we get it. He gave his “thumbs-up”—literally—to Ring Around Bells and gave it a score of 10 out of 10!

Next up was Sultan, a sweet, teenage boy with an infectious belly laugh. He loved the Bright Red Switch, but it was the Gel Pad Activity Center that brought forth his wide beautiful smile and gales of laughter that had us laughing right along with him.

After Sultan, CPW's Clinical Director Tina Weisman brought her student Luke into the room. We've worked alongside Tina for many years and she is a magical therapist. That morning, Luke seemed tired and was not responding to our Nursery Rhyme Caterpillar until Tina changed the angle at which she was holding the device. “There's Luke!” she exclaimed, as this lovely young man began to smile and move in time to the music. “Now he's awake!”

When I returned to my office, I passed by a picture of my father, smiling and surrounded by some of the toys we make.

Before we were Enabling Devices, the company was called Toys for Special Children. At our core, that is still who we are. My father loved people; but he cherished children above all.

Many years ago, he sent me a picture of the two of us hugging each other. It was taken when I was just a little boy. On the back of the photo he wrote: This picture says it all.

Just before I sat down to write this letter, the staff was gathered in the conference room, looking at the pictures we took of Shaun, Sultan, Luke and the other children we met. One of those pictures is on the cover of the catalog you are now holding.

That picture says it all.

Best,

Seth Kanor, CEO

☀ stretch your budget with kits & bundles

Classroom kits are a fast and easy way to outfit your special needs classroom with a variety of products to suit different students. Our Classroom Communication Kits, for example, contain low- and mid-tech AAC devices including Go! Boards, Talkables, Put-Em-Arounds and sequencers. The Classroom Switch Kit (page 8) has nine different switches to accommodate a range of needs. There's even an Autism Spectrum Disorder Kit (page 8) with products to assist with communication, organizational skills, and sensory input. The Adapted Music Kit (page 7) is designed for both music teachers, music therapists, and general therapy use. And there is a specially designed Kit for the Visually Impaired (page 9) that includes five different communicators, high contrast icons, brightly colored and illuminated switches and VI friendly games.

#2401 Talkable 3

Augmentative and Alternative Communication (AAC) devices are used to communicate without using verbal speech. In addition to unaided communication, such as facial expressions and gestures, these tools can help people with communication disorders interact with others and improve their language skills.

At Enabling Devices, we're committed to providing the solutions children and adults with special needs require to engage with the world in new ways. You can trust us to partner with you and provide unique options to enrich the lives of individuals with disabilities and those who work with them.

 a game-changing mount that makes life easier

#1601 EZ Mount Tray for Bright Red Switch

Mounts that position devices exactly where they are needed are critical for those with mobility issues. They hold switches, communicators, phones and other needed items securely at the proper height to reduce discomfort or fatigue.

Our newest generation of mounts, EZ Mount Trays and Adapters (left and below), are a “game-changer,” says our in-house occupational therapist, because of their versatility and affordability. EZ Mount Trays replace bulky mounting plates with lightweight yet durable snap-in trays. There’s a tray for our most popular communicators and more on the way. These 3D-printed trays strap easily to the arm of a wheelchair or mount to a tubular rail or traditional arm mount with the adaptors (sold separately).

sensory products for large and small spaces

Sensory products help people with sensory sensitivities engage their senses—touch, smell, sight, taste and hearing—in a positive way. Dedicated sensory spaces can also help children enhance their fine and gross motor skills alongside their auditory, visual and tactile processing abilities. These spaces can be especially helpful for children with disabilities that affect their vestibular and proprioceptive systems, which control balance and the body’s ability to sense motion within its parts.

At Enabling Devices, we offer trusted products that can benefit children and adults with sensory needs. Our goal is to create products that engage the imagination, build cognitive and motor skills, and help kids and adults become comfortable with new sensations. We offer free sensory room design services, too. Whatever your budget, we’ll put together a sensory space that meets your needs. Visit us online at enablingdevices.com and click Services to learn more, or call us at 1-800-832-8697.

 we've got a switch for every need

#725 Multi-Sensory Center

Switches are the gateway to independence for people with special needs. They allow the user to activate a myriad of switch adapted devices, including toys, electronics, appliances and more. Enabling Devices' switches come in various colors, shapes and sizes to suit different needs.

When choosing a switch, consider the following:

- How sensitive does the switch need to be?
- How large an activation surface is needed?
- Does the user need an auditory, visual or tactile cue that the switch has been activated?
- Which part of the body will the person be using to activate the switch?
- Does the switch need to be mounted?

We have a handy guide to choosing the right switch for your needs online. Visit enablingdevices.com/comparison-charts/ for a Capability Switches Comparison Chart.

 choose from more than 100 toys that teach and entertain

Jonathan B. with his favorite toy, #2241 Textured Carousel Busy Box

Our company was founded on the premise that all children should have toys that are accessible, educational and just plain fun! We have a large selection of toys and games that help parents, teachers and therapists build motor and cognitive skills in individuals with disabilities.

Many of our toys can be used to achieve multiple goals. For example, the Sensational Textured Activity Center (#2251, pg. 59), is bursting with textures, sights and sounds that can address more than a dozen therapeutic learning goals. Its mirrors, fans, music, songs, lights and sound effects increase visual attention and tracking; encourage reaching, swiping and grasping; increase auditory development, and more.

Our Skills Development Chart online will help you choose the right toys and games based on the individual learning goals. You can view or download it at enablingdevices.com/activity-guides-product-tips/ or call us for personal assistance at 1-800-832-8697.

products to help develop ADL skills

#3200 Slant Board and #9080 Battery Operated Scissors

Adaptive training tools help people with disabilities learn and perform activities of daily living (ADLs) by bridging the gap between their abilities and the activity. They make it easier for someone with a disability to practice an ADL so they can apply it to life at home, school and work. We carry products that assist with writing, operating appliances, gardening, cooking, crafting and dressing.

Our Slant Board (#3200, left) is extremely popular because of its ergonomic design, which encourages proper wrist position and improves posture and stability. Combine with a Weighted Handwriting Glove or a PenPalz Handwriting Helper (both on pg. 79) for new writers. The Battery Operated Scissors (#9080, pg. 80) are a must for art class and crafting. Our Pouring Cups (#20, pg. 80) are also a bestseller and can be used for both cooking and craft projects.

must be included. Custom/Special orders or final sale items cannot be returned. Items that are non-returnable (these items are noted) can still be repaired. Items being returned in bulk (quantity of 10 or more) have a 20% re-stocking fee.

DAMAGED/DEFECTIVE

Please notify us within 10 days of receipt of any discrepancies, items damaged in shipping and/or faulty items. Free Technical Support is available by phone 800-832-8697 or email customer_support@enablingdevices.com. We may be able to troubleshoot the problem and avoid having the item returned.

PLEASE NOTE: There is a $35 (domestic) and a $50 (international) diagnostic fee for each returned item found to be in good working order. Also, customers are responsible for return shipping costs if items are found to be in good working order, were ordered by the customer incorrectly, or if the item is not suitable. All items returned for credit/refund must be shipped to us unmarked and in original packaging.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO READ BEFORE CALLING

Checking the batteries to make sure that they are fresh and properly installed can prevent 95% of all returns. We recommend alkaline batteries be used. Any of our products that have been switch-adapted will only work with “mono” adapters and will not work with “stereo” adapters. If you are having trouble with a product, please refer to the troubleshooting tips in your user’s guide.

RETURN AUTHORIZATION

All items MUST have a Return Authorization Number before being sent back. You can obtain an RA# by going online to enablingdevices.com/return-warranty-policy/ or by calling us at 800-832-8697x6. Please have your invoice number or customer number available as this will help to expedite the return process. To ensure efficient delivery, we suggest you send your return via a trackable method.

refunds/credits

You are entitled to a refund/company credit on most items (except where noted) within 30 days of delivery. Items being returned must be in new condition and unmarked. Any item that has been written on with permanent marker or has stickers/labels on it cannot be returned for a refund, a credit or an exchange. All original packaging, accessories and manuals warranties

For U.S. and Canada purchases, there is a one year warranty on communicators and switches. For all other products there is a 90 day warranty for manufacturing defects unless noted on our website. Items under warranty will be repaired free of charge. There will be a charge for repair and return shipping and handling on all items out of warranty. For international customers, please visit our website www.enablingdevices.com for warranty information. If you have any questions regarding returns, repairs, and warranty information or if you would like a repair fee quote, please contact us at 800-832-8697 X6 or email returns@enablingdevices.com. Please note that these time frames and repair fees are as stated and cannot be changed. Repairs, alterations or modifications done by someone other than Enabling Devices will automatically void our warranty.

Due to ever changing demand, certain toys may be discontinued by their manufacturer. If a substitution of a similar toy must be made, it will be of equal value. Our products are continually being improved and so the appearance of the product in the photo may slightly differ from what you receive. Please be assured that you will always receive the latest version.
